

“JIBE, SPEED, FITNESS & FUN” Windsurfing Camp 4 – 11.9.2022
by Martin Brandner
at the Pro Center of Jürgen Niens and Bertrand Crausaz in Trianda, Rhodos

With this camp, Martin, former F2 brand manager, co-founder and long-term manager of JP-AUSTRALIA wants to open a new era of windsurfing training camps by using the latest technologies and technical means. From video training to detailed video analysis using a drone to using a radio to stay in touch with the participants. He has also developed a unique jibe simulator to practice jibing on land.

The real fun of windsurfing starts with pulling off your first carving jibes and planing through your jibes as well as early planing and reaching high speeds. The goal of this exclusive camp is to get you exactly there. So, if you finally want to make 9 out of 10 Jibes and want to get really fast - this is the camp for you.

For those who are interested - the camp also includes special fitness training for windsurfing including warm-up and stretching exercises.

Most of the theory units and the video analysis will happen in a professional meeting room at the Blue Horizon Hotel.

Long before his career in the windsurf business, Martin was pretty close to giving up on windsurfing as his planing jibes simply did not work. Only after he finally decided to sign up for a jibing lesson at Lake Garda he was able to manage his jibes and became a Windsurfing addict. Therefore, he knows the problems of those who are right at that point in windsurfing like hardly anybody else.

In addition to the actual teaching units every participant will get to keep the following:

- Lycra
- USB Stick with the whole drone video footage and photos of the individual participant
- Waterproof mobile phone cover to use an app to check his speed and distances while sailing

Martin has worked for almost 3 decades as the manager of two of the most successful brands in windsurfing. Legends like Jason Polakow, Josh Stone, Antoine Albeau, Björn Dunkerbeck and many other very well-known names like Kauli Seadi, Ricardo Campello, Robby Swift or Amado Vrieswijk were part of his teams. For many years he was a member of the PWA management board and as such he has heavily influenced windsurfing as a professional sport. He basically knows more or less everybody in windsurfing as well as many spots and has experienced many great and unbelievable things – therefore he has tons of stories to tell.

His goal for this camp is to pass his almost endless passion for this sport on to others and help them to enjoy windsurfing even more.

Martin Brandner:

“Windsurfing gave me everything in my life – my dream job where I could combine my passion with work. And it gave me the possibility to work with fantastic people – worldcup riders, employees, colleagues, media people, manufacturers and international customers and it allowed me to live and breathe windsurfing 24/7.

Finally Windsurfing also allowed me to live my dream now and only do what I love to do. With this camp I would like to give something back to windsurfing by helping other people to have even more fun with it as they finally pull off their jibes and go really fast. By doing so I hope they will continue to windsurf and possibly be as passionate about it as myself and therefore become opinion leaders and ambassadors of windsurfing.

Come and join me for the endless fun of Windsurfing.”
